

...THERE IS...

INVOLVEMENT

and of themselves; (2) or, because the Christian knows he is sanctified, he may conclude that all his impulses are right, and adopt the deadly and destructive dictum of Augustine to "love the Lord, and do as you please."

Holiness, then means the destruction of carnality but the direction of humanity. Dr. E. P. Ellyson wrote:

Sanctification does not destroy a single natural soul faculty. All of the natural appetites, senses and capacities are left. In the work of cleansing, God does not destroy man's eyesight to keep him from looking at obscene pictures, his passion to keep him from lust, or his temper to keep him from getting angry. He simply takes sin out of these soul capacities and places righteousness therein, leaving him free, under the Spirit's indwelling, to constantly choose and will the will of the Master.⁵

The native instinctive equipment of the sanctified person is not modified. The dynamics of personality are vital to human life, and while purged of sin are left intact. These urges, impulses, drives, and powers are neither good nor bad in themselves. They are like the engine in the automobile which supplies its motion but does not determine its direction. The same engine will drive the automobile to the pool hall and roadhouse, or to the church and on errands of mercy. The same instinctive urges which destroy the soul, if misdirected, may build its greatest usefulness when guided aright.

No complete listing of the dynamic features of human personality will be attempted here. Some of these major drives which must be kept under control are (1) self-preservation, including food, "flight, and fight"; (2) sex, or race preservation; (3) play, the need for motor activity; (4) herd or sociability tendencies; (5) self-assertion; (6) curiosity, the desire to learn and know; (7) and acquisitiveness. None of these is sinful in itself. All of these may become the occasion for sin if not brought into subjection to the ideals of the Christ-life.

Different persons at different ages will need to apply controls at different points. The emergence of many of these basic drives is a matter of maturation. The young may find sex, play, and herd tendencies most clamorous.

Registration

Choose Something Like A Star . . .

Registration — long lines of students correcting class lists, securing signatures, recognizing familiar faces, arranging finances; students eager to begin a new semester. Masses of books surround the student, constantly reminding him of the vast horizons of knowledge, waiting to be discovered, investigated, and conquered. A new year to improve or fail yourself. An important decision of every student's life. Registration — a new beginning.

Committee Entertainment 1971

Because they are cheerful when it is difficult to be cheerful. . .

Every week the Social Committee, consisting of five members from each class, plans activities to keep students entertained.

This year the "Class Follies" provided great competition and fun among the classes. The Pyramid Build, Tire Race, Greased Pig Chase, Bath-tub Stuff and the final Tug of War made the afternoon one to be remembered. The day came to a highlight at the semi-formal banquet that evening.

North And South Party

"The South Shall Rise Again"

This was the theme for the Civil War Party. The co-ed football game with the girls showing the boys how to play, the southern supper, and the evening party where girls were sold as slaves made the day a great success.

Again the Social Committee provided fun times on Olivet Campus for the long week-ends.

Serving the Students

Nothing can be destroyed ... Everything is being created ...

Student government gives ONC students a voice in administration. The Associated Students is responsible for the distribution of the student body funds for various organizations such as the Aurora, the Glimmerglass and WKOC. The Student Tribunal interprets the constitutional questions of this body. These students must be responsible and be able to lead the student body.

Club Day

My star in life, if I'm to reach that goal . . . would be to give to others a piece of my soul.

Club Day again this year urged students to get involved. For example, the Pre-med Club is more than a functional club; it is a social club also. Its purpose is to advise students as well as to keep them in contact with related areas of medicine. This year, under the direction of Ron Farris, pre-med had guest speakers, and along with tours helped keep interests of the students alive.

W.R.A. Activities

Women are heavenly ... or unearthly ...

The weekends became a time of fun and enjoyment as Women's Residence Association provided many activities. Big Sis-Little Sis began the year when Freshmen girls were greeted by their Big Sis and were helped to adjust to college life. The Big Sis-Little Sis party was a big success with the English theme selections from "Oliver" and "My Fair Lady".

Twirp Week — a week when the girls took the boys out for a good time. Professor Walmsey's Mental Magic and the Penny Arcade made the entire week an exciting time for the girls and their dates.

Time changes many things . . .

Each year we observe Founders' Day on the last Friday of September because Olivet opened its doors for the first time in late September. On that day we remember with pride those who founded and gave to us our wonderful college; September 24, 1971, commemorated the sixth anniversary of the founding of Olivet Nazarene College Nursing Program. Wisner Hall, is the latest addition to ONC. It is dedicated to the field of Nursing. Let us pray that each year will bring more success to our school as we continue to grow in Christ.

- E. Nominated Sweet Heart couple, Kathy Olthouse and Mick McGraw

Highlighting the evening was the announcing of Tim Gee and Dorothy Williams as the 1972 Sweetheart Couple. Many other couples were honored by the rendition of engagements. Ask anyone who attended, about the night and they'll only smile and say

I'll love you till the bluebells forget to bloom.

I'll love you till the clover has lost its perfume.

I'll love you till the poets run out of rhyme.

Until the Twelfth of Never
And that's a long, long time.

Intramural Volleyball

Intramural Volleyball, played in March, again displayed teamwork as each of the societies battled for first place. Each team played twelve games and this year co-rec was added to the program. These teams consisted of three men and three women from each society. The rules of "power" volleyball brought out unknown skills for the girls.

Intramural Flag Football

The intramural teams really went to it this year with a lot of hard running and kicking. Beta took first place on the football scene with 8 wins — 2 losses. Denny Wadsworth, quarterback, showed his colors as most outstanding player. Combined teamwork along with a great desire for victory proved to be the winning ingredients.

Competition was great in the intramural ranks which allowed for the exciting games. Each society was tough and ambitious to be tops. Each player gave his all. Although intramural is not intercollegiate, a person would think each society was playing for the national championship. Intramural is to be commended for its learning process. Our societies should be recognized for a job well done.

Basketball

“Ggrreeaatt!”

Tiger hysteria really captivated Olivet this season. Olivet is proud of its Tiger team and rightly so. The Tigers were a hustling, competitive team and really tough to handle. Pat Allen, Larry Schmalfeldt, Ralph “Tres” Hodge, and Chuck Olson had the eyes of hawks when it came to putting the ball in the hoop. Larry Schmalfeldt’s presence again was felt as he terrorized the opponents. Pat Allen was an appreciated newcomer as he was named “most valuable player” in the Olivet tourney. He slicked his way into the hearts of Tiger fans. We shall never forget the explosive, Tres Hodge as he came on like “gang busters.”

Chuck Olson, Chosen on the all-tourney team during the Olivet tourney, was all around great. Then there is Bill Remole who came in and never gave up the hustle that he is well-known for. Aurora: What do you feel has been the most significant change in the academic world at Olivet Nazarene College in the years you have been here as President?

President Reed: I would say that perhaps the most interesting and the most significant change at Olivet was in about 1952 and 53 when we went to the Six Divisions from our former three divisions with three Deans: the Dean of Liberal Arts, The Dean of Religion, and the Dean of Fine Arts.

Aurora: Do you feel that the total enrollment at Olivet Nazarene College should be restricted?

President Reed: I feel that it is our responsibility to offer a good Liberal Arts Education to every young person within our church constituency of the ten districts of the Central Educational Zone. It is my belief that Olivet has enough flexibility in its curriculum so that anyone can receive a Liberal Arts education at Olivet and have opportunity to major in fields that are satisfactory to them.

Aurora: To complete the intercollegiate program, how long do you feel it will be before Olivet has intercollegiate football?

President Reed: I can see you've been talking to Professor Ward or some of his cohorts because Professor Ward is very anxious to have intercollegiate football at Olivet. Yesterday it was my privilege to work with the Vice President of Eureka College, and they have intercollegiate football. I asked him the question, "Does intercollegiate football pay its own way?" His answer was "It does not pay its own way. If we didn't have it, we would not start it but since we have it and have a long time background of intercollegiate football, we are almost compelled to continue on". But it is a cost that cuts down on the academic program

Aurora: What are the future plans for the new Fine Arts facilities?

President Reed: I would say that it will take time for us to raise finance for the Fine Arts facility. Consequently, we are doing everything we can now to give to Olivet a strong Fine Arts Division now. As you know, this year we have the 3 Baldwin Grands that are new in order that the pianists that we have on our faculty can use them for their teaching purposes and also use them for concert preparations and concert delivery. But it will perhaps be several years before we can move in the direction of a strong program of raising funds for the Fine Arts building as such. I might say that the next building is the Learning Resources building which is an expansion of the Library. But it will be several times as large as the present library and should be well equipped with the best as far as instructional media is concerned.

Aurora: What has been the hardest decision you've had to make as President at Olivet Nazarene College?

President Reed: I've had a lot of hard decisions to make. I suppose the hardest decision that I've had to make was to make a change in Administrative leadership at Olivet about 3 years ago.

Aurora: What role do you feel Olivet should play in the Kankakee community?

President Reed: I feel that Olivet is the college of the community. We do have a community college commonly known as the Junior College. They can offer Vocational Training, and they can offer enough courses for one to have a core of Liberal Arts so that he can continue on with the Baccalaureate Degree at Olivet or at one of the State schools. I am confident that the Junior College movement will play a strong role in limiting enrollments at not only the independent Liberal Arts Colleges of the state of Illinois but the State Universities as well. And so I would say that there is a sense in which our role is reduced in that respect; but otherwise when it comes to community organization, when it comes to needing top flight guidance from faculty in the field of the Natural Sciences, of the Social Sciences, or in Fine Arts or Religion or any of these areas, the community must look toward Olivet because we have resources that no other institution has.

Aurora: Do you ever have to get alone to work things out within yourself?

President Reed: I surely do. Just because I am not in my office doesn't mean that I am not at work. When I have a problem to work out in my own mind; for instance, a budgetary problem, I cannot do it in my office, because when I am here, I want to be available to everyone who wants to see me. I want to clear my desk as fast as possible and those are the things that I feel I should do while here in the office. But there are alternates that you need to work out in your own mind. Should we go this way or should we go the other way and as you attempt to come to your conclusions as to what you are going to do you can do it better by yourself. And that is one reason why I have been so pleased with the Board of Trustees who have purchased the lovely old home on the Kankakee river because I can get away from campus and can pretty well free myself to get a good hard look at the problem that is before me.

Aurora: Do you think an individual can ever know himself completely?

President Reed: I rather doubt if you can ever know yourself Completely. Socrates said, "Know yourself". Perhaps he knew himself better than most people but all of us have built into our thinking enough rationalism concerning ourselves and our relationship to others until it is perhaps rather difficult to ever really know ourselves fully.

Aurora: What do you do to get release from the pressures of your job?

President Reed: I do different things: 1. I plan to read, and so from a book I can free myself from the pressures of the office. If it's a Saturday afternoon, I may listen to a football game to try to free myself from the pressures of the office. It may be that I realize that on Sunday morning I'll be speaking some place and therefore I'll need to free myself from whatever I am thinking about in order to prepare myself for this service. Then there are times when I go down to our little cottage in Missouri and spend a couple of days there trying to free myself from the tasks so that I can get a better perspective on my work at Olivet.

A Rap Session With President Reed

Aurora: Would you consider having rap sessions with small groups of students on the campus, and do you think that this would be valuable?

President Reed: Yes, I've been always willing to talk to different groups of students and it's always a thrilling experience for me to have that close relationship with the students. For if there is any one thing that I miss at Olivet over my experience; for instance, as a very young man as the President of Breesee College, where we had 150 students, I knew every student by name, I knew something about his family, I knew something about his desires and there was a closeness and a warmth of fellowship that was delightful and that has existed across the years; and to a certain extent, Olivet is so large that, of course, that cannot be possible but I welcome every opportunity to get closer to the students and I would say the same thing for the faculty because we now have over 100 members of the faculty.

Aurora: What do you think of the rock opera, "Jesus Christ, Super Star"?

President Reed: It may turn some folk on but it turns me off.

Aurora: What is your opinion of the Jesus people?

President Reed: First of all, I would say that I am very happy to know that there are young people who have succumbed to drugs and the drug culture that are finding relief and finding Christ as a personal Savior. But I think it is a mistake for the student body of Olivet to say, "Since that is successful there, we need to go down and help and work among them. I think there are people who are called into that area and I would certainly want them to respond but it isn't for everyone just as working on skid row in Chicago is not God's calling for every student in Olivet. We could have students that could become involved in that situation and make a shipwreck of their lives but we are happy for everyone that is rescued.

Aurora: What is your opinion of the Women Liberation Movement?

President Reed: Well, I think that the women should have every consideration that men have but I am not sure about the philosophy of the woman who wants to free herself from her home entirely. I think it is a very costly mistake for her and her family.

Aurora: Do you keep up with the books on the secular best seller list and if so which one?

President Reed: I try to read a book a month during the year. I try to read a book a week during the 3 months of the summer period, and during that time I try to read at least one best seller. I try to read some from the area of each of the six divisions at Olivet so that I am reasonably up to date. As far as each chairman of the division is concerned and each department chairman is concerned, he can recognize that I have an interest in his specialty and Olivet.

Aurora: What future plans does Olivet have for the acreage that is now involved on the campus right now?

President Reed: The 40 acres over by stadium drive will eventually become the Athletic field for the entire campus according to the present plans. There is a possibility that on the east on Olivet Street, there will be a large men's dormitory or Residential Hall. Then there is the need and the plan for a Chapel that will seat from 2500 to 3500 and possibly a wing that will have the Fine Arts and another wing that will be a Religion building for the campus.

Aurora: What major goal have you set for Olivet Nazarene College in the next 5 years?

President Reed: We are driving hard now to raise money for this Learning Resources building and that of course will be the No. 1 building project, that is, as far as building projects are concerned. The second emphasis that I would make would be concerning our study in depth for our 10-year development program is now going on in the faculty and is being assisted by students on the various committees and I feel that will help to determine not only where Olivet goes between now and 1980 but will help to set the pattern for the next 25 years. So I would say that from the standpoint of building, it is an immediate goal in the Learning Resource building and the completion of this study in depth concerning the total college program at Olivet.

Aurora: What part do you feel that the student body should play in the governmental procedures and the academic affairs at O.N.C.?

President Reed: To me the students should be and are as far as I know, on every policy making committee of the faculty and of the administration. That is the way it should be. For in that way, the students can voice their thinking and their concerns. I feel that the students should be in a position to give their strong reactions and impressions and concerns on all of the committees that have to do with policies whether academic or administrative.

Aurora: What has been the most rewarding experience you have had as College President at O.N.C.?

President Reed: I would say that every year when that senior class marches down the aisles of Chalfant Hall, and they come one by one to receive their diploma and I can know something about many of them, the triumphs that they have had while at Olivet, the spiritual victories they have won, the academic achievements they have made and to know that in that congregation sits their parents and relatives bursting with pride, that is always the high point as far as I am concerned for the year. And as I have said to Dr. Snowbarger on several occasions as we have stood together watching them march in, "Dr. Snowbarger, this is where we really get our pay," and so that is how I feel about it and that to me is the most rewarding experience that I have had at Olivet.

Aurora: Thank you.

Board of Trustees

Decisions . . . Decisions . . . Decisions . . . the theme of O.N.C.'s Board of Trustees. They decide what is best for Olivet and what would do it harm. Finances, deciding how to operate and spend the funds for the future years also comes under the jurisdiction of the Board. Our Board consists of outstanding men who put forth a great effort and plenty of time to see that Olivet is ranked high in all aspects of its operation.

Unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain that build it . . .

Offices of Administration have been filled this year with very responsible men. Adequately supplying the needs of the college have been John H. Cotner, Charles Ide, Charles Beatty and Willis Snowbargar. These men not only hold one job but are burdened with responsibilities of added offices and acting positions. Yet each is a constant example to an upcoming generation. The duties of these leaders grow more complex every year. Administration is the key to quality at any college. Olivet is proud of its men who serve its student body and its constituency with such skill and dedication. Religion is certainly in the hearts of ONC leaders. If not, Olivet would have no goal. The Administration are always available with understanding and helpful advice. Through administration heads Olivet moves forward to accept the higher challenges of tomorrow.

The Administrative Assistants play an important and vital part in many areas of the Olivet student's life. Their diligent work and efforts often go unnoticed. However, each contributes a necessary portion to the efficient operation of Olivet Nazarene College and without their help, many things taken for granted would be lacking.

"One thing in education is that there is an oversupply of teachers; therefore, our students have to be better prepared," explains Mrs. Mayo. Education is changing from lecturing to inductive learning through simulation materials and videotape in micro-teaching. Students accumulate 40 hours in public schools, travel to the Children's Book Fair and early childhood education centers in the Chicago area.

"The library intends to inspire and encourage you to explore the wealth of ideas and the pleasure that are to be found in books and other resource material," according to director Mr. Wiens. Every academic area at ONC has thousands of volumes available. The grand total of resource materials, in the Ten Year Development Plan's fifth year, nears 109,000 items. Conveniences include a book return outside the library, a copying machine, and microfilm of various newspapers.

"Teaching the kids an awareness of what physical education is and what it can do for them, and learning to understand themselves physically, academically, and spiritually" are the goals of the Physical Education Department's.

The department tries to create a student interest in learning individual activities and appreciation of sports as a spectator or player.

The Baccalaureate Nursing program instructs students in learning experiences for practice and proficiency in Medical-Surgical, Maternal-Child, Psychiatric, and Public Health Nursing. The new and spacious Wisner Nursing Center houses the department. Homes, hospitals, public health agencies, nursing homes, schools, and industry constitute the "Nursing Laboratory."

Developing a Broad Perspective

- A. Physical Education: Professor C. W. Ward
- B. Professor Robert W. Starcher
- C. Instructor Dorothy Acord, Instructor Carol Doenges
- D. Professor Larry Watson
- E. Nursing: Professor Margaret Seelye, Professor Leona Hayse, Professor Carolyn Rohe, Professor Alberta David, Professor Arlene B. Canfield
- F. Nursing Students at Dedication

Division of Natural Sciences

- A. Donna Peck
- B. Dr. Dwight J. Strickler, Dr. John P. Marangu, Professor William Beaney, Dr. Harry Fulton, and Dr. Robert Wright
- C. Dr. John E. Hanson, Dr. T. Richard Schmidt, and Dr. Clarence E. Grothaus
- D. Tom Hartley
- E. Cindy Nelson

"Our equipment is being upgraded in all the sciences," states Dr. Grothaus. Over $12,000 worth of new equipment is a National Science Fund Purchase for the Physics Department. Chemistry advancements include a modular electronic chemical instrument and a gas chromatograph.

Biology, the largest department in the Natural Sciences Division, helps students gain knowledge of molecular, individual, population, and community levels of development, bringing understanding to their academic specialty. Biology students, along with students of other science departments, make trips to Oregon National Lab each year to use special equipment.

Earth and Space Science is a relatively new science with many professional opportunities. Thriving new interdisciplinary majors are offered in geochemistry, geophysics, and geobiology. The advanced classes take a trip in the spring to observe and put their learning into practice. A two-week trip is planned for early summer to the Northwestern United States. Dr. Reams sums up the department with the exclamation, "We're going places!"

Preparing students to be teachers and graduate school students is the purpose of the Mathematics and Computer Science Department. An IBM 1130 Computer and supporting machines equip the computer laboratory. Offered each semester is a post-calculus course in numerical analysis and programming. A new addition to the department is graduate assistant Mike Howe, who also assists Dr. Whitten in physics.

Learning Truth Through Science

- A. Earth and Space Science: Prof. Marion Jamison, Dr. Max Reams, Dr. Robert Hayes, Prof. W.E. Eigsti
- B. Prof. David Skinner
- C. Dr. Max Reams and Steve Pierix
- D. Mathematics: Prof. Gordon Whitten, Mike Howe, Prof. David Skinner, Prof. David Atkinson
- E. A piece of quartz

Stability plus progress characterizes the Social Science Division's current status. Notable in academic progress is the new major in social welfare which is attracting ever increasing interest. A similar two-year program for social workers is being considered by the Department of Sociology. In History a twenty-five year record of teaching is being completed by Professor Humble, a record surpassed by Dr. Mitten and Professor Anderson.

Department of Social Sciences

- A. Al Billets
- B. Business and Economics: Dr. Lloyd Mitten, Dr. Vernal Carmichael, Professor Leonard Anderson, Professor Esther Roberts
- C. Sociology and History: Professor Harvey Humble, Professor James Stewart, Professor Otho Jennings
- D. Professor Joseph Nielson
- E. Professor Bill Isaacs with Shirley Verrier and Randy Bibby

The Home Economics Department offers many courses to prepare students for entrance in their special interest fields. The students prepare and hostess a faculty UN dinner, Mother-Daughter weekend tea, and Homecoming alumni breakfast. Demonstrations, sewing contests, style shows and various other activities are presented by home economics students. More students seek non-technical professions; enrollment is increased; more students are attending national conferences in Iowa, Texas, and Chicago," observes Mrs. Howe.

Knowing Man and His World

- A. Professor Lettie Howe
- B. Candy Tam
- C. Home Economics: Professor Grace Kindred and Professor Rubalee Morris

Studying a foreign language covers many facets of another country. It includes geography, customs, and the sociological make up of the particular country. This enables foreign language students not only to be able to communicate with others but also to better understand them.

The Speech Department keeps looking forward as it trains students in the field of Speech. Both the scientific and artistic aspects are covered. Skill in expression, to prepare better leaders, is developed by the Speech Department. Students of special qualifications are prepared to become teachers in this field. In the drama department, new instructor Miss Dolph teaches a new course in British Oratory. Another new course helps the student understand the historical and critical aspects of speech.

Department of Language and Literature

- A. Speech: Dr. Leroy Brown and Marty Dolph
- B. Professor Athel McCombs
- C. Professor Thomas Reid
- D. Foreign Language: Professor Donald Elliott, Professor Alfred Lilenthal, Professor Minnie Wills, and Professor Gardner Walmsley
- E. Cathy Simons

Dr. McClain describes the main advancement in the English Department as a program which "puts foreign students in a teaching course of English rather than putting them in regular English classes." Available for students wishing to improve their deficiencies in English and Literature are a developmental reading program and an English laboratory. The department concerns itself with teaching an appreciation of the best literature and developing effective communication.

Developing Literary Skills

- A. Professor Foote, Professor Phillips, Professor Jorden
- B. Language and Literature: Professor Gunnell Jorden, Professor Eunice McClain, Professor William Foote, Professor Lottie Phillips, Professor Rose Burckhardt, and Dr. Carl McClain
- C. Marlene DeYoung
- D. Language and Literature: Professor Henry Engbrecht, Professor Harriet Demaray, and Professor Marilyn Baker

Developing an intelligent appreciation of, and desire for, the arts that will last through the student's life; and preparing those who have a professional interest in the music area are the attempts of the Fine Arts Department. Ceramics, design, painting, and sculpting project the student's life and creativity. The extensive music department has three new grand pianos, a number of musical programs, the addition of two new instructors, Miss Evans and Mr. Nielson, and the return of Mr. Young.

Department of Fine Arts

- A. Professor Irving Kranich
- B. Music: Professor William Tromble, Dr. D. George Dunbar, Professor Harlow Hopkins, Professor Gerald Greenlee, Professor Ray Moore
- C. Professor Wanda Kranich, Professor Jewell Grothaus, Professor Naomi Larsen
- D. Concert Band
- E. Miss Alice Edwards, Professor Ovid Young, Mr. Stephen Nielson
- F. Elementary Music Methods, Mrs. Bell

Creating in the Arts

- A. Professor Gerald Smeenge, Dave McMahon
- B. Karen Williams, Karen Kisse
- C. Painting class
- D. Art: Professor Harvey Collins, Professor Gerald Smeenge

Dr. Philo relates the philosophy of the Philosophy Department as being "to increase one's love for wisdom." Developing a philosophy of life, clear and sound thinking, assisting students in ultimate spiritual commitment, and understanding the whole human experience are major objectives of philosophy. Philosophy students attend a state philosophical conference held by the American Philosophical Society in Chicago. Graduate courses on philosophical systems of the world are given to senior religion majors for the first time.

Department of Religion and Philosophy

- A. Steve Carter
- B. Philosophy: Dr. Earl E. Barrett, Dr. L. C. Philo
- C. Mary Kondourajian
- D. Prof. Don Hoyt
- E. Theology: Dr. J. Otis Sayes, Dr. Forest T. Benner, Dr. J. F. Leist, Dr. Ralph E. Perry, Prof. R. L. Lunsford.

Developing a philosophy of life, clear and sound thinking, assisting students in ultimate spiritual commitment and understanding the whole human experience, are the ultimate goals of the Religion Department. Ministerial students have field training in local churches. Some of the professors attend Western Theological Meeting in Nashville. To many ONC students, the Religion Department keeps everything going on campus.

Aurora Staff

The 1972 Aurora Staff has been working every day this year to produce a yearbook worth remembering. For the first time, the Aurora Staff is working with Josten's American Yearbook Company. Edanna Zagar, editor, and Lois McLaughlin, business manager, in co-operation with the staff have spent their time, organizing and producing one of the best books ever. From pictures to copy to advertisements, the 1972 Aurora has been a major production.

- A Editor, Edanna L. Zagar

Welcome to... Jimmy Holmes

"A MAN'S STORE" "Always a Little Better"

Meadowview Shopping Center
Kankakee, Illinois

Jimmy Holmes is "A Man's Store" dedicated to satisfying the discriminating good taste of Men's wishes. We of the Jimmy Holmes store for men strive to put him in the finest merchandise possible. Fitted to his discriminating taste and suited to his particular needs.

Styles and fashions are our business. We suit the man from head to foot, so why not fashion the store to his taste. A store with a relaxed — no hurry atmosphere. Where he can be king at his leisure and have professional assistance when he needs it. A store that includes a man sized selection that is always a little better.

May I suggest that you and your wife shop together for your clothing needs. You'll be glad you did ... and so will Jimmy Holmes.

How do you know a diamond?

Finding out about the precious diamond you wish to purchase is as simple as 1-2-3. And you don't even need your own loupe to do it! Choose a jeweler you can trust — one recommended by an organization such as the American Gem Society — and then rely on his high standards of ethics and trained gemological background to carefully and truthfully advise you. You will find such attention in our store. Do come in soon and let us show you our fine diamonds.

Dedication

You have inspired us throughout the years with your friendly smile, warm personality, and great sense of humor. Always willing to rap with individuals, you have given strength and encouragement to many of us, sometimes perhaps without even being aware of your helpfulness.

As our basketball coach and as a profesor you have given to Olivet Nazarene College many hours of effort and hard work. We appreciate you and take this opportunity to say thank you by dedicating the 1972 Aurora to you, C.W. "Coach" Ward.

- A. Gary Irwin, Tres Hodges, Coach Ward.
- B. C.W. Ward.
- C. Coach Ward, Pat Allen.
- D. Tres Hodges, Coach Ward.
- E. Coach Watson, Coach Ward.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people who contributed to the publication of this yearbook. Many times they worked diligently behind the scenes to see that sections were finished and deadlines met. These are the people who really deserve the appreciation of the student body as they endeavored to present to O.N.C. the story of the school year 1971-72.
